Miss Tessie Clark departed to Los Angeles last Thursday, where she will visit for a few weeks.

Mrs. Edna Goforth, of Baxter Springs, Kansas, a niece of J. N. Cohenour, is visiting in Kingman.

Dr. H. L. Carpenter, of Goldroad, was called to San Francisco, the first of the week, by the death of his mother.

Last evening Kingman was treated to one of the most violent wind and dust storms ever experienced, followed by a splendid rain.

Rev. J. M. Ocheltree, who has been the pastor of the M. E. church the past year, was appointed to the Williams pastorate by the recent M. E. conference.

E. F. Thompson is erecting a new building on one of his lots on Oak street to be used as a bakery. Kingman has long been in need of an up-to-date bakery and this will fill the want.

Last Sunday Bryan Hilty fell from a horse and suffered the fracture of his collar bone. The boy suffered no other injuries, but it will be some time before he will be able to do anything.

Edward Kelley, an inmate of the county hospital, died at that institution last night. Kelley had long been a sufferer from organic heart trouble. He is supposed to have children in one of the eastern states.

Deputy Sheriff J. P. Gideon departed yesterday to Phenix, having in custody an Indian boy recently committed to the insane asylum by Probate Judge Teale. The government pays the territory for the expense incurred.

Mrs. Isabelle Dennis opened her lunch room, in the Luthy block, last Saturday evening, serving an elegant dinner to her many guests. The place has at once sprung into popularity among the diners out. Her lunches and dinners are unequalled.

The funeral of the late John Hughes was held from the Catholic church last Sunday morning, Rev. Father Connolly, of Winslow, officiating. The little church was filled to the doors by the host of friends and acquaintances of deceased that came from near and far to pay their last tribute of respect to a most worthy citizen.

Deputy Sheriff J. P. Gideon returned from Los Vegas, Nevada, Wednesday last with Bert Williams, who recently broke jail. Williams was being held on a charge of burglarizing the Santa Fe depot, at Kingman. McMurphy, who broke jail with Williams, is still among the missing.

Daniel W. Holloway, one of the old timers of this county, was selected as one of the watchmen at the Capitol by the constitutional convention, now in session at Phenix. Mr. Holloway departed Monday evening to Phenix to report to the presiding officer.

Judge W. G. Blakely was commissioned pastor of the M. E. church at Kingman by the recent conference, held in Williams. Judge Blakely has always been regarded as the people's pastor and his appointment is the cause of rejoicing among all classes in Kingman.

District Court will convene on Wednesday, October 26th, the regular term having been ordered adjourned to that day. Grand and trial juries will be drawn next week and all criminal business will be disposed of during the term, while all triable civil business will be taken up and disposed of.

A few days ago the Indian policeman from the Indian school at Truxton, was returning from Chloride with trunks, boy and girl, and while in Kingman the two escaped the vigilance of the officer and went before Probate Judge Teale and were married. An Indian Interpreter assured the Judge that the boy was twenty-one and the girl nineteen years of age. When the policeman found that the young people had played hooky for life on him he gracefully submitted and the happy couple departed to their home in Chloride.

Serious Accident.

Last Sunday afternoon while M. H. Murphy, little son Johnnie and John Penberthy were on their way to the American Flag mine, the horse on which the boy was riding became unmanageable and finally threw the little fellow off on his head and shoulders. When picked up the boy was unconscious and remained in that condition all night. The following day Mr. Murphy began a hunt for the horse with which to come back to town, but it was late in the afternoon before the animal was found. Carrying the unconscious boy in his arms Mr. Murphy made the trip to the old saw mill, where he had left his buggy. The horse was hitched to the buggy and a start was made down the rough mountain road. Darkness came on and on a rough and slippery part of the road the buggy was overturned, throwing the occupants out and further injuring the boy. Mr. Murphy also was badly bruised about the head and shoulders. By an effort the vehicle was righted and again the journey was continued to town, where they arrived late at night. A physician was at once summoned and every effort made to bring the injured boy back to consciousness, but it was not until Thursday that the little fellow showed signs of returning to life. Two trained nurses are in attendance and the boy is receiving every attention that can be given him. It is now thought that he will fully recover, although the concussion of the brain sustained by the little fellow was a most severe one.

H. N. Tracey and Fred L. Cohenour departed last Wednesday to Pine Springs and the Diamond Creek section, where they will hunt deer and look into the power possibilities of Diamond Creek. Mr. Tracey is one of the best known electrical engineers on the Pacific coast, having built practically all the big power plants from British Columbia to the Mexican border throughout the Pacific states. Should he obtain a good power site it is more than probable that he will build one of the largest water power generators in the United States. The Grand and Diamond Creek sections offer unlimited power for such a scheme and only the feasibility of the project will have to be looked into.

Louis Gavaille, an operator at Kingman station, was taken to Los Angeles last week and died in the hospital on the twelfth of the month of typhoid fever. The young man did not appear to be seriously ill when he left here, although the attending physician diagnosed his ailment as that of "walking" typhoid. The young fellow was an exemplary young man and had many friends in our city.

The highway commissioner of this county ought to do some necessary work on the streets of the town. Practically all the streets are full of deep ruts and chuck holes and no effort has been made in the past two years to remedy the defects. A small amount of work would make the streets of the town ideal for any kind of vehicle.

Elmer G. Sigler, at one time a resident of Kingman, is a recent arrival from Tonopah.

Constitutional Convention.

The constitutional convention, which has been called to frame a constitution for the new state of Arizona, met in Phenix last Monday. George W. P. Hunt, of Gila county, was elected president. In the distribution of positions Daniel W. Holloway, of this county, was given the position of watchman. In the matter of constitution making Henry Lovin, the delegate from this county, was named on the following important committees: Suffrage and elections, mines and mining, public debt, revenue and taxation. One of the peculiar features of the make up of the committees is the elimination of the legal profession from chairmanships, although Ellinwood, Baker, Doe and Cunningham are made a part of all the important committees, including the judiciary. It is expected that the convention will be in session the full sixty days.

The Misses Phyllis and Bernice Smith came down from Flagstaff and Holbrook, last Saturday to attend the funeral of their grandfather. The young ladies returned Monday, Miss Bernice going to Holbrook, where she is teaching in the public school, and Miss Phyllis to the Normal school, at Flagstaff.
